

Peanut Butter (or Cheese) Sandwiches

MATERIALS:

Milkbones
Peanut butter/ Spray cheese
Brown paper bags
Tongue depressor

DIRECTIONS:

Use the tongue depressor to spread a layer of peanut butter (or spray cheese) on one Milkbone. Use a quarter of an inch layer of peanut butter or less. (We don't want any dog stomachaches)

Next, place a second Milkbone on top to create a sandwich.

Repeat steps 1 and 2 so you have two peanut butter sandwiches.

Put two peanut butter sandwiches into one brown paper bag. Fold/roll the bag down.

Milkbone “Candies”

MATERIALS:

Milkbones (any size you would like)
*Even cutting a large one in half works!
Tissue paper
Tape (if necessary)
Ruler
Scissors

DIRECTIONS:

Lay the milkbone on the tissue paper and cut at least 3 inches bigger than it (usually roughly a 7 inch by 7 inch square works).

Wrap the tissue square around a large milk bone and twist the ends.

If necessary, to hold the center of the wrapping down, place a piece of tape.

Repeat!

DIY Dog Enrichment

The following DIY toys are meant to add a little something extra to your dog's new life ahead of them. This all begins with you, their kind, generous owner who has already shown an incredible amount of compassion by simply choosing to adopt from HSHV!

Information provided by and special thanks go to 2018 Humane Youth Award winners Kaitlin Barrett-Huff, Emilia Callan, and Claire Roffi.

Treat Boxes

MATERIALS:

Small empty cardboard boxes, like granola bar or cereal boxes (or brown paper bags)

A variety of dog treats

DIRECTIONS:

Take a box and open it.

Place any three treats in each box (or brown paper bag).

Mix it up and make them different so the dogs have some variety in their treats!

Close the box (or fold down the opening of the paper bag).

Repeat!

Hot Dog Ice Cubes
